

Tankersleys Honor Constance Bennett

Mr. and Mrs. Garvin E. Tankersley entertained at a gala after the theater party last evening in honor of their close friend, Constance Bennett.

Miss Bennett, who in private life is Mrs. J. Theron Coulter, wife of Air Force Col. Coulter, opened last evening in the starring role of "Auntie Mame" at the National Theater.

The Tankersleys planned to have their party at their residence on River road, Al-Marrah, but when the snows came last week they moved it to the Washington Club.

Country Eggs

The hosts, however, brought part of the menu with them—the eggs and sausage were from the country. Other highlights of the late supper were a cheese fondue and lobster a la Newburg.

Among the guests coming on from the theater were Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and her houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Sturm of New York and Connecticut.

Mrs. Longworth's daughter, the late Paulina Longworth Sturm, was a daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Sturm. Mr. Sturm is a co-producer of the new show.

Others expected who attended the opening and the party later were Mr. Monte Appel, who gave a dinner earlier; Col. Coulter who is stationed at Andrews Field; Mr. Scott Kirkpatrick, manager of the National; Miss Louise Gore, Mr. Jon Jonkel and Mr. Lawrence Spivak.
